This prize is offered by the Australian Marine Conservation Society (AMCS). This competition is open to any person currently living in Australia aged 16 and above. The prizes will be posted to winners using Australia Post. An Australian address or PO box must be provided to claim the prize.

Entry will be through:

- Submitting three valid and complete 2025 Supermarket Plastic Surveys containing data from an Australian store (either online via SurveyMonkey or using a hardcopy emailed to plastics@amcs.org.au);
- Entrants must answer 'yes' to the question asking if they'd like to opt-in to the competition, and;
- Entrants must be consented to receive email news and appeals from AMCS when prizes are allocated.

The competition starts 12pm Tuesday 13 May 2025 and ends 12pm Monday 30 June 2025 AEST or until stocks last. Prizes will be dispatched by 31 July 2025.

At least three complete, valid, and unique survey submissions is one entry. Submissions must include images of produce and prices clearly visible, with all fields answered. Entrants can submit as many surveys as they like, with a maximum of one redeemable prize, subject to availability. Employees and Board Members of AMCS are ineligible to enter - AMCS volunteers are eligible to enter. Entrants will be contacted by phone to confirm postal address and t-shirt size. If a winner is not contactable after three genuine attempts within 48 hours, a new winner will be chosen.

Prize includes one Fight Plastics T-Shirt in desired size (subject to availability). In the event that the desired size is unavailable, entrants may choose an alternate size of the Fight Plastics T-Shirt (subject to availability). There will be a maximum of 100 Fight Plastics T-Shirts available for prizes, and will be provided to the first 100 eligible entrants.

Prizes are not transferable for cash. Substitutions for other products are not permitted. All prizes must be sent to an Australian postal address and postage costs
